

I am 15-years old and got my amateur radio license three years ago. I do not believe Morse code testing should be eliminated from amateur radio. I think the VEs that gave me my license tests were just as happy as I was when I passed. It was not a "burden" for them like it says in the NCVEC petition. When I get my Extra license, I want to become a VE too. It will be fun to help people. I don't know why the NCVEC would say something like this.
